

What is Presumptive Eligibility?

Presumptive Eligibility (PE) is a Health First Colorado (Medicaid) and Child Health Plan Plus (CHP+) program that provides immediate, temporary medical coverage for children under 19 and pregnant women.

- You must be a child under 19 years old, or a pregnant woman; and
- You must appear to qualify for Health First Colorado or CHP+; and
- You must complete an application for Medical Assistance.
- The temporary medical coverage lasts for at least 45 days while your eligibility for full healthcare benefits is determined.

Who is Eligible for PE?

- Pregnant Women
- Children Under 19 years old

What Type of PE Medical Benefits Will I Receive?

- The medical benefits you receive are based the program (Health First Colorado or CHP+) for which you are found eligible. An eligibility worker will determine which program you are eligible for based on your income.

What Happens Next?

- Your Medical Assistance application will be sent to the county where you live.
- The county where you live will determine if you are eligible for Health First Colorado or CHP+ health care benefits. They have 45 days to process the application.
- You will receive a letter in the mail that will tell you if you are approved or denied for health care benefits. If you are approved for benefits, you will receive a medical card in the mail for each family member who has been approved.
